

IDS of Delaware Becomes Approved Depository of Intercontinental Exchange (ICE) Depository Now Open to ICE Futures U.S. Market Investors

NEW CASTLE, DE (March 31, 2015) – International Depository Services (IDS) of Delaware, a subsidiary of Dillon Gage Metals, has become an approved depository of the Intercontinental Exchange Futures U.S. (NYSE:ICE). ICE operates a network of regulated exchanges and clearinghouses. ICE's futures exchanges focus on the global commodity and financial markets, with an emphasis on risk management reduction and other capital efficiencies.

This approval expands IDS-Delaware's capabilities and offerings while servicing the Exchange and its participants for Eligible and On-Warrant precious metals contracts.

The Exchange has approved the Depository for all four current precious metals contracts offered by ICE Futures U.S., including:

- 100 oz Gold (ZG)
- Kilo Gold bars (YG)
- 1000 oz Silver bars (YI)
- 5000 oz Silver (5 x 1000 oz bars)(ZI)

"IDS of Delaware is proud to service the sophisticated investment market of Intercontinental Exchange Futures U.S. clients," said Alisa Moen, president of IDS of Delaware. "With the competitive rate structure, state-of-the-art security and cutting-edge reporting offered at our depository, we look forward to working closely with all private and institutional ICE Future U.S. participants who own, sell, trade and store precious metals."

IDS of Delaware clients will now be able to transact business between accounts within the storage facility and still maintain the chain of custody streamlining the process and alleviating the need for costly logistical services such as assaying or transportation. In addition, IDS Vault employees are now licensed Weighmasters by the State of Delaware.

IDS of Delaware is located at 406 West Basin Road, New Castle, DE. For more information, please call toll-free (888) 322-6150 or visit: www.ids-delaware.com.
